mandi turner

wedding planning & co-ordination

Hi my name is Mandi & I'm the Creative Director & Business Owner here at Ivy & Bleu and have been a planner for over 10 years. Wedding's are my absolute passion, curating individual & unique briefs for my clients & bringing their dreams to life has become my life's mission.

I truly love love! ♥

Every ceremony whilst listening to the beautiful stories & vows I send my own husband a cheeky message telling him how special love is & how thankful I am that we to found each other. He literally sits & waits for it each time!

Love is something I truly cherish so helping my couples celebrate theirs truly fills my heart.

Mandi walked down the aisle to Always by Jon Bon Jovi in 2007

"Mandi OMG honestly the wedding was SO STUNNING I was speechless, the amount of flowers, the attention to detail, the greenery it was out of this world. It was more amazing than I ever could have imagined and all the guests couldn't stop commenting how amazing it all came together.

Some bumps in the road to get this one done & dusted (covid postponement) and i'm just so grateful for you and for sticking with us when it got tough and being so flexible considering the challenges! You really are a dream maker." - Eden & Bryce

Hi my name is Emmagen & I'm a Senior Wedding Planner & Stylist here at Ivy & Bleu. I made my start in the wedding industry on the Gold Coast in 2012 and have loved every single minute since.

Curating intimate, bespoke & beautiful weddings is my absolute passion in life. I know all too well how quickly the wedding day goes and my mission is to ensure my couples enjoy every single moment of their day, whilst I take care of every tiny detail.

I am an absolute hopeless romantic and always have been ♥

My favourite moment of every wedding day is when my bride & groom see each other for the first time at either end of the aisle. Baring witness to this moment, where time stands still in their love story, is something I will never take for granted.

Emmagen walked down the aisle to Kissing You from Romeo & Juliet in 2017

"Emmagen, our wedding honestly would not have been as perfect as it was without you. Thank you for always being there for me and answering all my questions in my endless emails. Thank you for being such a kind and organised person, you made me feel so at ease and helped me to de-stress and enjoy my day even more by knowing that you had everything under control. Thank you for helping our day be so seamless and run perfectly smoothly, from running around and checking on the venue and being there every step of the way. Helping with everything from fluffing my dress and throwing confetti for our photos, all the way to helping coordinate family photos and being our hype woman for speeches. You were absolutely incredible and we can not thank you enough. Your love and dedication to helping us have the perfect day did not go unnoticed. Ryan as you know is very money conscious but after seeing everything you did for us has told me many times that you were the best investment we made for the wedding. I can not express in words how thankful we are for you. " - Tamsen & Ryan
